WELLER'S Better Peonies

“Ours for Flowers”

As well as Weller's Perennials “With That Wonderful Root-system” is established in the minds of our friends and customers, so are we known for Weller's Better Peonies; because of their positiveness to Flower, the wonderful roots that go with the eyes, and our guarantee for true-to-name stock.

How Weller's Better Peonies are Grown and Delivered

Weller's Better Peonies are grown on one year well manured land, to insure a permanent and healthy growth, as well as a good development of the root system. The plants are cut into small divisions, pruning the roots as close as possible, so that entirely new roots may develop. Two years from planting, these divisions are dug and divided into good, salable plants, 3-5 eyes plus a good bunch of roots, and shipped to our customers. Some Peony growers leave their plants in the field three years before selling them, but we find that there is always a tendency for the development of disease, the roots getting coarse and heavy, the result of which is a poor looking division without roots, and dissatisfied customers. It is more profitable for the grower to grow Peonies for three years before selling them, but we believe in selling a Better Peony, thus giving our customers better value for their money.

“Peonies are Money Makers”

As we are used to saying: “Peonies are Good Property”

Every Florist should have a patch of Peonies for cutflowers, and as the years pass along, they grow into value, the plants getting larger and producing more bloom. One hundred dollars invested in Peonies, ought to save a Florist a $300.00 cutflower bill at Decoration day alone. Peonies planted for cutflower purposes, should be planted 3 ft. apart in rows, rows set apart four feet, one acre requiring 3630 plants.

Time to Plant Peonies

The proper time to plant Peonies is from September 1st until the ground freezes. Spring planting is never satisfactory. While our stock of some varieties is only limited, we urge our friends to place their orders early. Orders filled in strict rotation.

Delphinium

"QUEEN OF ALL BLUE FLOWERS"

For Forcing

Delphinium (Hardy Larkspur) has always been our specialty, growing nearly one-half million plants for this purpose. All our Delphinium for forcing have been transplanted twice to cause them to make as many fibrous roots as possible (Our Famous Wonderful Root-system). As soon as the plants are well ripened in the fall, they are dug, heeled in flats in sand and left outside to freeze, after which they are put in cold-storage until shipment. This process is absolutely vital if good results are to be expected. For Forcing, No Blue Flower Will Equal the Hardy Larkspur; For Profits, No Plant or Bulb Costs Less and Brings Bigger Returns.

DELPHINIUM BELLADONNA. The most popular variety. The sky-blue flowers are freely borne on numerous branching stems throughout the summer.

WELLER'S ROSES FOR FORCING

Heavy Forcing Grade.

As one of our customers expressed himself in his correspondence, "Your Roses are the finest I have ever had in my hands" and the reason is simple. Our rose-fields are plowed twenty-four inches deep, to enable the plants to send their roots down as deep as they please, which accounts for the Wonderful Root-system and sturdy growth of the bush. Further, we top all our Roses several times early in the spring, so that they may branch out to the limit and make the wonderful stock we supply. Once you have forced our Roses you will not want anything else.

WELLER'S SPIRAEA (Astilbe) for Forcing

For years the Perennial Spiraea (Astilbe) has been a favored plant for forcing in pots, especially before the embargo when good forcing clumps could be imported from Holland at reasonable prices. Since, good forcing stock has been hard to obtain on account of the comparatively few localities where Spiraea could be grown successfully. At once when the embargo took effect, we started to experiment, and since have been quite successful and worked up a fair stock to supply at least a part of the demand. Our Spiraeas are grown on low land and under irrigation where the plants can grow undisturbed throughout the summer, making fine, large clumps with good, fat flowering eyes.

WELLER'S DIELYTRA (Bleeding Heart) For Forcing

Bleeding Hearts have always been a favorite for forcing, but of late on account of the scarcity have almost been forgotten. Bleeding Hearts is possibly the easiest plant to force, blooming in 4-5 weeks from the time they have been brought into heat. It makes a beautiful potplant. Our Bleeding Hearts being grown in regular black-loam soil, our plants are of the finest grade, strong, clean and healthy.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

DEAR FRIENDS:—

During the past four years, our Mr. A. Weller and Mr. H. Weller have had the pleasure of calling on you and most of our friends, once and twice during the season; taking orders and rendering such service as the opportunity has offered, which we trust has been a pleasure to you as much as it has to them.

We want to thank you heartily for the courtesies you have always extended them, and we hope that we may continue to enjoy them for a long time to come. We trust that we have given you sufficient opportunity to study the character of our organization, so that your confidence in us may not be lost by the following plan.

Our business has made a wonderful growth. It has grown to such an extent, that there is more demand for our goods than we can reasonably grow. With this the demand for efficient service increases. In order to grow more and better stock and better our service under the strictest economy, we have decided to take our boys from the road and from now on solicit your orders by mail. They have learned what service to render in order to retain a customer and we need them at home to help us do it. You will receive Better Stock and Better Service in exchange for their personal visit. In remembrance of our acquaintance and our past services, we hope to be again favored with your esteemed orders, which we assure you will be filled with the utmost promptness.

Cordially yours,

Weller Nurseries Co., Inc.
